

From: mo1...@aol.com (Mo10Cav)
Subject: 1 ACR: "Waco: Rules of Engagement"
Date: 1996/08/18
Message-ID: <840376984$25476@atype.com>#1/1
X-Deja-AN: 174922413
sender: ne...@newsbf02.news.aol.com organization: America Online, Inc. (1-800-827-6364)
return-path: ne...@newsbf02.news.aol.com
reply-to: mo1...@aol.com (Mo10Cav)
newsgroups: misc.activism.militia

18 August 96

To All Constitutional Militia Units, Officers and NCOs

There is a two-years-in-the-making documentary about to hit the theatres this fall (October-November) called Waco: "Rules of Engagement". At present it is about 2 hours and 10 minutes in length. This film, which takes evidence and testimony presented at the Davidians' trial and the congressional hearing and compares it with what is now known from FLIR tapes and other evidence-- (including footage that was not available to the congressional investigation, leaked by highly placed sources within the intelligence community).

I have not yet seen this movie. I have had significant portions of it described to me by those involved in the project. Gentlemen and ladies, when this film is shown to the American public it will blow the lid off the Waco massacre. THIS IS NOT A LINDA THOMPSON REDUX. This is a professionally done, 100% factual work which employed a small army of recognized experts in ordnance, photographic and FLIR analysis, law enforcement and hostage situations. If you thought the Jim Pate article in last month's Soldier of Fortune was startling (see sidebar on FLIR evidence of government forces firing <FBI HRT or Delta> into the rear of the building as Davidians are struggling to escape the fire), you ain't seen nothin' yet.

If what this documentary presents is true (and I believe it to be), then Waco was in fact an American Lidice or Ouradour massacre. The FLIR evidence is conclusive, and the movie presents other evidence to back it up. There will be plenty here to reopen the Waco investigation on the Senate side, with perhaps a special prosecutor appointed to find out how far this murder conspiracy went.

Quite frankly, the problem for militia commanders will be how to restrain the fringe elements and loose cannons from taking events into their own hands after they see this film. (Or to cope with the likely results in the event that they do.) This movie will be very powerful and hard-hitting. If the Clinton Co-Presidency is reelected, particularly if the Republicans lose one or both houses of Congress at the same time, then the hope for any serious investigation of this new evidence will be nil. In such a case, the likely criminals identified by this movie will be targets for assassination by rogue elements/borderline mental cases. I wouldn't want to be Jeff Jamar, Jim Cavanaugh, Ron Noble, Sarabyn or Chojnacki in that case, not to mention the Secret Service detail that has to guard the Co-Presidents.

And these won't be nut cases like the fellow who sprayed the White House lawn with an SKS. These will be U.S. military-trained men who know how much bulletdrop they've got to compensate for at 500 meters. Now there is nothing more repugnant to me than the thought of Bill Clinton rotting beneath an eternal flame in Arlington and befouling the ground reserved for America's heroes. The very act of assassination is a loser's tool. It has been roundly condemned over the past years by virtually all of the Constitutional militia movement. Even if it is successful in murdering without trial a criminal or two, the very act will bring down martial law-- the same thing the Clinton Administration and their Nazi lackeys seem to be seeking.

The Clinton Administration is expected to take steps to try to stop this film from being distributed. The question is: does the possibility of inciting nutcases to violence overrule the compelling presentation of the truth to the rest of us? The answer to me is no. Truth must out. But forewarned is forearmed. This will be a very disturbing and provocative movie. Constitutional militia units should be urged by their officers and NCOs to seek every legal means of redress for the crimes the movie makes plain. God willing, Clinton will not be reelected.

But whatever happens, we must remember the mission laid out to us under law by the Founders, and reinforce every day the Lexington orders: "Don't Fire Unless Fired Upon!"

-- Mike Vanderboegh, Bvt. Col.,
1st Alabama Cavalry Regiment, Militia